DETAILED ACTION

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 12-25, 28-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Muskatevc, U.S. Patent 6,087,579.

The Muskatevc patent discloses the claimed solar collector for converting light incident thereon into electrical energy comprising a first and second substrate having a photovoltaic cell formed on a surface thereof, the surfaces of the substrates being oriented at angles relative to each other and to a director of propagation of light incident on the solar collector such that the light incident on the solar collector and reflected from the first substrate can be reflected directly onto the surface of the second substrate to enhance the efficiency of the solar collector (see col. 5, lines 19-50 and col. 6, lines 13-44).

Figures 5-9 show the use of two substrates, however, the use of three or more substrates is not explicitly spelled out or the shapes formed by the three or more substrates. The reference does disclose the use of a number of different panels or substrates, because it teaches that the size of the angle between the solar panels is inversely related to the number of panels (see col. 6, lines 44-50).

Consequently, the invention as a whole would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the disclosure of the Muskatevc patent, because the Muskatevc patent teaches the use of a plurality of panels positioned with regard to the angle between the solar panels. The shapes formed by the arrangement of the panels given the disclosure of the Muskatevc patent would be rendered obvious to the ordinary artisan, unless the shape provides an unexpected result.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 12-16,28-29 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-20 of U.S. Patent No. 7,208,674. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of the instant application are fully encompassed by the claims of the prior patent.

Claims 17-25, 30-32 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-20 of U.S. Patent No. 7,208,674 in view of Muskatevc applied as above. The prior patent does not disclose the use of more than three substrates or the shapes produced by said use. The Muskatevc patent is cited to show the use of plural panels or substrates based on a desired or engineered choice by controlling the angle between the panels (see col. 6, lines 44-50).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use more than three panels, because the Muskatevc patent teaches such a use. The shape of the arranged panels would be accomplished by the selection of the angles between the panels and therefore are obvious.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
